Dei Iovis 24. Junii, 1641.

THe first head is concerning the disbanding of the Armies, and under this there are severall particulars.

1. That five Regiments, according to the former Order of both Houses, be first disbanded.
2. That the Commissioners for Scotland be intreated to retire some part of their Army.
3. That their Lordships will joyne with us in a petition to his Majestie, to declare his pleasure concerning the disbanding of the five Regiments, for which there is present monies provided, and of the rest of the Army as soone as monie is ready.
4. And to declare if any be refractory, and contemne his Majesties authoritie, that hee will use it for the punishment of them.

5. And that the Lord Generall goe downe to his charge of the Army, and begin his journey on Saturday next, and that the Master of the Ordnance go then down also, to take care of his charge of Artillery.

The second Head is concerning his Majesties journey to Scotland.

That his Majesty will be pleased to allow a convenient time before his journey into Scptland, that both Armies bee first disbanded, and some of the businesse of importance, concerning the peace of the Kingdome depending in Parliament, may be dispatched before his going: This is seconded with divers reasons.

1. The safety of his Majesties person.
2. Preventing the Jealousies of his Subjects.
3. Suppressing of the hopes of persons illaffected, that may have designes upon the Army, to disturbance the peace of the Kingdome.
4. Great advantage to the Kings Affaires, and contentment to his People.
5. That some of the Bills now depending in Parliament, wheroft divers are sent up already to the Lords, and some proceedings in this House may receive his royall assent before he goe to Scotland, and that wee may have time to passe the Bill of Tonnage to his Majesty, for supporting of the royall estate, and to settle his Majesties Revenues for the best advantage of his service, and forthese reasons to allow some time before he go into the North.

The third Head concerning his Majesties Councell and Ministers of State.

Both houses to make suit to his Majesty, 1. To remove from him all such Councillors as I am commanded to describe, viz. such as have been active for the time past, in furthering those courses contrary to Religion, liberty, good government of the Kingdome, and as have lately interessed themselves in those Councils, to stir up division betwene him and his people.

2. As

2. As we desire removall of those that are evill, so to take into his Councell; for managing of the great affaires of this Kingdome, such Officers and Counsellors as his people and Parliament may have just cause to confide in. This is all concerning the third Head.

The fourth Head touching the Queenes most Excellent Majesty, which containeth divers particulars.

1. That his Majesty be pleased, by advice of his Parliament, to perswade the Queen to accept some of the Nobility, & others of trust into her Majesties service, into such places as are now in her disposall.

2. That no Jesuit nor none of Orders, what Country-men soever, whether French or Italian, be received into her Majesties service, nor any Priest of his Majesties Dominion, English, Scottish, or Irish, and that they be restrained from comming to Court.

3. That the Colledge of Capuchins at Sumerſet-house may be dissolved, & sent out of the Kngdom. These two which I last mentioned, concerning the Queen, Priests, Jesuits and Capuchins, I am commanded to deliver you some particulars for.

1. Publicke danger, and scandall of this Kingdome, and peace of the Kingdome.

2. Dis-affection of some of those wicked Conspirators is expressed in two Letters, which Letters were here read openly.

3. A particular Letter of Father Phillips here also read.

4. Because of the Priests, Jesuits, and the Colledge there are divers great quantities of Gold transported frequently.

4. Particulars that concerne the Queen, is upon speciell occasion of his Majesties absence ; that their Lordships will bee pleased to joyne with us to advise the King, that some of the Nobility and others of quality , with competent Guards may be appointed to attend the Queenes person against all designes of Papists, and of ill-affected persons, and of restraining resort thither in his absence.

The fifth Head concerneth the Kings Children, that some persons of publick trust, and well affected in Religion, may be placed about the Prince, who may take care of his education, and the rest of his Children; especially in matters of Religion and liberty.

The sixth Head concerneth such as shall come into the Kingdome, with titles of being the Popes Nuntio, that it may be declared, that if any man come into this Kingdome with Instructions from the Pope of Rome , be in case of high Treason out of the Kings protection, and out of the protection of the Law. And I am to informe you that there is notice given upon very good grounds, that Count Rocetto doth yes continue in the Kingdome, and yet resorts unto the Court.

The seventh Head is concerning the security and peace of the Kingdome.

1. That there may be good Lord Lieutenants, and Deputy Lieutenants, and such as may be faithfull and trusty , and carefull of the peace of the kingdom.
2. That the Trained Bands be furnished with Armes,

Armes, and Powder, and Bullets, & exercised, and made fit for service ; and that a speciall oath may be prepared, by consent of both Houses, authorised by Law, and to be taken by the Lord Lieutenants, and Deputy Lieutenants, Captaines, and other Officers; such an oath as may be fit to secure us in these times of danger.

3. That the Cinque Ports, & all the Ports of the Kingdome may be put into good hands, and a list of those in whose charge they now are, may bee presented in Parliament, and speciall care for the reparation and provision of those Forts.

4. That my Lord Admiral may inform the Parliament, in what case his Majesties Navy is, which is to be provided for, out of Tonnage and Poundage, for the security and peace of the Kingdome.

The eighth Head, that his Majesty be pleased to give directions to his learned Councell, to prepare a Generall pardon in such a large manner, as may be for the relieve of his Majesties Subjects.

The ninth Head, and that doth concerne a Committee of both Houses, that their Lordships would appoint a number of their members, to joyne together with a proportionable number of this House, who from time to time may confer upon such particular causes, as shall be most effectuall for the common good.

The tenth Head, that his Majesty be moved, that hee would be pleased to be very sparing in sending for Papists to Court, and that if any shall come without being sent for, That the Lawes be severely put in execution against them : and that the English Ladies that are Recusants

Recusants bee removed from Court ; and his Majesty be moved to give his assent, that the persons of the most active Papists, either Lords, or Commons may bee so restrained, as may bee most necessary for the safety of the Kingdome, and that no pensions bee allowed to such Recusants as are held dangerous to the State.

FINIS.
